WARREN COUNTY

Warren County Commissioners go on record as sponsoring the continuation of the Office of Economic Opportunity program.

Several ties have resulted from the spring primary elections in races for Democratic committee men and women.

A New Brighton, Pa. man is burned and damages exceed $5,000 in camp fire on Lenhart Run rd., off Pleasant dr.

Scandia Mountain Association further plans for promoting the Scandia area throughout the coming tourist season.

PENNSYLVANIA

Democratic proponent of aid to nonpublic schools says he will oppose attempt by administration to insert three amendments into enabling bill now before the House.

Camera work begins for filming of "The Molly Maguires" in rebuilt coal mining community.

THE NATION

Walter Reuther's leadership of the United Auto Workers is challenged by rebels who want the union's methods of electing its officials changed from convention to referendum.

Ninety-year-old Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona will retire next year after a record 57 years in Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee accepts a tax increase-spending cut compromise, breaking a long deadlock and clearing the way for congressional action on a key administration proposal.

The voter who didn't make up his mind until entering the polling booth may be the deciding factor in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary.

Outstanding achievements in journalism and the arts are noted in the 52nd annual awarding of Pulitzer prizes, including a new category for feature photography.

THE WORLD

Envoys work on the site for preliminary U.S.-North Vietnamese talks, with renewed French student demonstrations apt to affect the decision, but Hotel Majestic thought possible.

Hard fighting still rages on in the northwestern outskirts of Saigon but the enemy offensive slackens elsewhere.

SPORTS

Warren Dragon golfers are getting into the swing of things as they prepare for the Section II matches at Cambridge Springs. Monday, they won a triangular match from Rocky Grove and Franklin.

On other sports fronts, Dragon trackmen travel to Oil City, and the baseball team plays host to Meadville. The Youngsville Eagles visit Smethport for a track meet.

Mickey Mantle passed Ted Williams, when he hit his 522nd major league home run Monday. Jimmy Fox, in third place with 534, is Mick's next target. Babe Ruth, 714 and Willie Mays 569 seem secure for many years in the top two spots.

Phoenix and Milwaukee, the two expansion teams in the National Basketball Association, have drafted players from the other teams in the league.

Cassius Clay, or Muhammad Ali, lost his plea before the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He had been sentenced in federal court last June, to five years in prison and fined $10,000.

FIRST DIVE OF SEASON

Warren County's underwater rescue team made their first dive of the season Sunday at the Hodge Run boat ramp on Kinzua Lake. Braving the still chilly lake waters are, left to right, Steve Campbell, Dan Wilson, Tom Giegerich and Christy Nelson. The divers, who volunteer their services in time of emergency, will be conducting a meeting later this month at the YMCA. The meeting will be to discuss diving lessons for persons in the area interested in learning the technique of scuba diving. The time and date for the meeting will be announced later this month. Cross-over Votes May Be Key To Indiana Primary Results

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Undecided Indiana voters who make up their minds at the polls in Tuesday's primary may alter the course of the Democratic presidential nomination contest. Although they vary in percentages, the opinion polls indicate that a substantial portion of the Democrats among nearly one million Hoosiers scheduled to cast ballots are waiting until the last minute to decide whether to support Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D.N.Y., Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D.Minn., or Gov. Roger D. Branigin. Supporters of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, alone on the GOP ballot, bought extensive newspaper, television and radio advertising to urge Republicans not to cross over into the Democratic column. Nixon's supporters published a full page ad: "Are you willing to lie for Hubert Humphrey?" The ad went on to say that a vote for Branigin is a vote for Humphrey. Branigin, running as a stand-in for President Johnson until the latter took himself out of the race, shifted to a favorite son stance. He and Humphrey have exchanged statements of mutual admiration. There are indications that any GOP cross-over voting might be aimed primarily against Kennedy. The Indianapolis News, accused by Pierre Salinger, a Kennedy lieutenant, with giving biased coverage to the campaign, returned to the fray Monday with a front page editorial urging cross-over voting "to upset Robert Kennedy's presidential steamroller and to prove that the voice of the people is more potent than money or 'image'."

Knight Enterprises Sweep Pulitzer Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — John S. Knight and staff members of two of his newspapers won separate 1968 Pulitzer Prizes for journalistic excellence Monday, in a unique three-category sweep of the awards. Never in the 52-year history of the prizes had members of one group of newspapers won three awards in a single year. There have been double awards on seven occasions. Knight, editorial director of the Knight Newspapers, was honored for distinguished editorial writing. The Detroit Free Press staff was cited in the field of local reporting for its coverage of last summer's riots there. Eugene Gray Payne of Knight's Charlotte, N.C., Observer, was named the outstanding editorial cartoonist of 1967. The Free Press has been shut down since last November by a labor dispute. It was believed to be the first time a Pulitzer Prize has gone to a newspaper which is not publishing. The awards are made by the Pulitzer Prize Board. The Pulitzer Prize for fiction went to William Styron for his book, "The Confessions of Nat Turner," based on the only effective slave revolt in American history. George F. Kennan, a veteran diplomat, became a two-time prize winner. He received the 1968 award for biography for his "Memoirs, 1925-1950." He was the 1957 winner in history. For the fourth time in the past six years, the Columbia University Board of Trustees omitted a Pulitzer Prize for drama. The prizes were established in the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, who died in 1911, and were first awarded in 1917. Pulitzer was founder of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and publisher of the old New York World. The awards are made by the Pulitzer Prize Board. See PULITZER, Page 2

Commissioners Approve Continuing OEO Program

The Warren County Commissioners Monday endorsed the continuation of the Office of Economic Opportunity program here as it has operated in the past. This unanimous action was taken, the commissioners said, after a thorough study and due consideration along with the public hearing held April 29 at which some 200 persons appeared mainly in support of OEO. The 1968 budget includes an appropriation of $1,400 for the programs, the same as the county's share last year. The next step in retaining the OEO in Warren and Forest counties is to notify the political subdivisions of the commission. The Warren County Commissioners would attend a meeting May 23 in Franklin when John K. Tabor will outline services available through the State Dept. of Internal Affairs in the areas of new industry and jobs, planning and zoning. The Golden Eagle Passport, admitting individuals and families to federal recreation areas throughout the United States, is available at the Warren County offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in the Courthouse basement, office manager Gerald Bensink reminds local citizens. The Golden Eagle Passport is only $7.00, and does not expire until March 31, 1969. Due to the resurfacing work presently underway on Pennsylvania ave., W., borough police stated Monday, there will be no parking permitted along either side of the avenue between Hickory st. and Laurel st. today.

House Committee Okays LBJ Tax Plan, Breaks Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's drive for a $10-billion tax increase lunged forward Monday when the key House committee voted to work on the basis of an administration-accepted settlement. The Ways and Means Committee told a Senate-House conference, headed by its own chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D Ark., to work out the increase. It agreed also to use the accompanying $4-billion spending-cut worked out by the Appropriations Committee last week as a basis for discussions — adding that the reductions should be at least this great. One highly placed committee member, asking not to be quoted by name, said its action was taken "in spite of and not because of" Johnson's appeal. Many case, the push for a tax increase gained these two important objectives with Ways and Means' 17-6 vote cutting across party lines. — For the first time, the tax-writing committee is on record for a tax increase. — It recognized — with the qualifying "at least" — the spending reductions listed by the Appropriations Committee, instead of inserting higher figures of its own. The Senate-House conference resumes Tuesday with the House conferees now instructed by the two House committees concerned, telling them further delay in passing the 10 per cent surcharge would be "a ticket to disaster."

Committee members, including Mills, who had been holding out for deeper cuts, accepted the action with the understanding that they could still fight in the conference for a spending reduction in the next fiscal year greater than the $4 billion.

The Ways and Means action came after an emotion-charged weekend that saw Johnson over nationwide television telling opposing congressmen not to try to blackmail him on spending as the price of what he called the urgently needed tax increase. Some members fired back indignantly. Johnson followed up with a Saturday letter to House leaders. The talks are set for Friday.

Fierce Fighting Still Rages On Outskirts of Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Fierce fighting raged Monday night on the western outskirts of Saigon, where North Vietnamese soldiers for the first time were reported engaged close to the capital. Viet Cong also battled South Vietnamese soldiers inside Saigon. It was the second day of battle in what started as the most widespread enemy operations since the Tet offensive in February. But U.S. officers declared most of the fighting slackened elsewhere in South Vietnam. After dark, a blast rocked downtown Saigon. It destroyed a car and damaged others nearby but there were no reports of casualties. U.S. officers said the blast was from a rocket or mortar but other sources said an explosive charge may have been placed in the car. It was generally agreed that the attack Sunday on Saigon and 121 other cities, towns and military installations — mostly by shelling — was a show of force to influence preliminary U.S.-North Vietnamese peace talks set for this week in Paris. U.S. officials said other purposes might be to shake U.S. public opinion, to strengthen the North Vietnamese bargaining position in Paris or to scare the population of Saigon.

County Teen Democrats Hold Organization Meeting

Adopting the name of Warren County Teen Democratic Club and expressing a desire to affiliate with the Pennsylvania Teenage Democrats, a group of young people met last evening at the YWCA here and named Helen Kanovsky, of Warren, as their temporary chairman. Other officers selected to guide the organization were Thom Bosko, of Sugar Grove, as vice-chairman; James Donick, of Warren, as secretary; and Martin Kanovsky as treasurer. In presiding at the meeting, Miss Kanovsky recited the purposes of the organization and discussed the application for a charter. She also presented a proposed constitution to be discussed and voted upon at a later meeting. Active discussion of the proposed constitution followed and several amendments were offered. Active membership in the Warren County Teen Democratic Club is open to all young people over the age of 12 and under the age of 20. Members present discussed the possible entry of a float in the Jaycee Fourth of July parade and Jim Burdick will head a committee to look into arrangements. Present at the meeting were County Chairman Tom Conway, County Commissioner Tom Donnelly, and Merle Nosker, Democratic candidate for General Assembly on the November ballot. All were introduced and spoke briefly. The next meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, June 13, at the home of Mrs. Bettie Putnam in Abakey. Games and a winner roast will be part of the program.

Press Photographer Killed in Viet

(C) N.Y. Times News Service SAIGON — A news photographer was killed Monday and three others wounded while covering the street fighting on the western fringe of Saigon. Charles Richard Eggleston, a 23-year-old staff member of United Press International, was killed instantly when a single enemy bullet struck him in the head. He was the fifth journalist to be killed here in two days. In a message of condolence, to the families and colleagues of the five dead newsmen, Ellsworth Bunker, the United States ambassador to South Vietnam, said: "War reporting has always been extraordinarily dangerous, especially for those newsmen who felt that in order to tell the story they needed a first hand look at the action. Eggleston, of Philadelphia, N.Y., and two of the wounded photographers, Co Resmeester, 32, of the Netherlands, and Arthur Greenston, 25, of New York City, were shot while accompanying South Vietnamese paratroopers in a house-to-house struggle near Tansom-hut airport. Resmeester, a staff member of Life Magazine, and Greenston, a free-lancer, were standing in a drainage ditch beside an old French graveyard when they were hit. The third photographer, Jean Yves Gaudron, 27, of Paris, who is employed by "Reporters Associates", a French photo agency, was grazed on the head and on hip by bullets.

Bureau Program Announced

Reservations are being accepted for the May 14 dinner of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and plans for the program have been completed.

The evening will start with a reception at 6 p.m. at the Three Flags Inn for secretary of commerce Clifford L. Jones and travel development bureau director Robert R. Shoemaker. Jones and Shoemaker will be the principal speakers following the 7 o'clock dinner. Leroy Schneek, president of the vacation bureau will be toastmaster and Jane Roshong, Miss Warren County will make a special appearance and presentation.

Michael Mead, member of the executive committee and Robert C. Dilks, immediate past president will also take part.

Purpose of the dinner meeting is to kick-off the bureau's first membership enrollment campaign for the counties of Warren and Forest.

Since the seating capacity is limited, bureau headquarters are assigning dinner reservations on a first-come, first-served basis. Invitations were mailed out to area business and civic leaders last week and they are urged to mail in their reservations at once. Wives are cordially invited to attend, also.

The May 14 dinner is the first of several events undertaken this month by the vacation bureau. On May 30 the bureau is sponsoring dedication ceremonies for the erection of the Three Flags in Crescent Park.

Bureau officers are planning to take Mr. Jones and Mr. Shoemaker on a boat trip on the Kinzua reservoir in the afternoon prior to Tuesday night's banquet.

Pulitzer

Columbia trustees, based on recommendations by the Advisory Board on Pulitzer Prizes, composed mainly of newspaper executives.

The meritorious service award in journalism is a gold medal, individual prize winners in journalism and the arts received $1,000 each, with an equal sum to those who share an award. In the case of the staff award to the Detroit Free Press, the $1,000 will be sent to Managing Editor Frank Angelo for disposition by the staff.

For the first time this year, a category of feature news photography was established. It was won by Toshio Sakai of United Press International for his Vietnam war combat photograph, "Dreams of Better Times." It showed a weary American soldier asleep in the rain, while a buddy kept watch.

The award for straight news photograph went to Rocco Morabito of the Jacksonville, Fla., Journal. His pictures, captioned "The Kiss of Life," showed an unconscious utility lineman being revived by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Alfred Friendly of the Washington Post was awarded the prize for international reporting for his coverage of the Middle East war in 1967.

The national reporting prize was jointly awarded to Howard James of the Christian Science Monitor, and Nathan "Nick" Kotz of the Des Moines Register.

A series of articles on "Crisis in the Courts" won for James. Kotz was cited for his reporting of unsanitary conditions in many meat packing plants, which helped insure the passage of the Federal Wholesale Meat Act last year.

J. Anthony Lukas of the New York Times won the award in the category of special local reporting for his investigation of the life and murder of Linda Fitzpatrick. She was slain with her hippie boyfriend in an East Village tenement boiler room in New York.

In the field of arts, the history award was made to Bernard Bailyn for his "The Ideological Origins of the American Revolution." He has written extensively on American history.

The prize in poetry was given to Anthony Hecht for "The Hard Hours," his fourth work. His first book of poems was published in 1954.

Will Durant and his wife, Ariel, won the general nonfiction prize with "Rousseau and Revolution," the 10th and concluding volume of their work, "The Story of Civilization."

George Crumb was awarded the music prize for his orchestral suite, "Echoes of Time and the River," performed for the first time May 26, 1967, by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Man Injured In Camp Fire; Damage $5,000

A New Brighton, Pa. man was burned and damages in excess of $5,000 resulted from a fire which leveled a camp on Lenhart Run rd. off Pleasant dr. shortly after midnight Sunday.

A.W. Figley, owner of the camp leveled by the blaze which broke out at 12:10 a.m. Monday, sustained minor burns on the back of the head and neck, according to assistant fire chief Sheldon Stewart, Pleasant Township Volunteer Fire Dept. Figley was administered first aid at the scene, Stewart stated after he and his wife ran from the blazing frame structure shortly after the fire broke out.

Eighteen men with three trucks from the Pleasant Township department answered the alarm, Stewart stated. Firemen were on the scene approximately four hours. According to Stewart, investigation indicates the fire may have started from an oil heater being used in the camp.

Clarendon Volunteer Firemen filled in at Pleasant Township while the Pleasant Township were on the scene.

Chain Reaction Accident Causes $1,025 Damage

A chain reaction type accident involving four cars caused an estimated total of $1,025 property damage Monday according to borough police.

The accident occurred at 3:55 p.m. on Pennsylvania ave. W. near Eddy st., police said, when a car operated by Thomas A. Gelotte, 20, 305 Jackson ave., crashed into the rear of a car operated by John Hershberger, 17, RD4, Centerville. The impact of the crash pushed the Hershberger car into the rear of a car operated by Samuel Clark Walters, 19, 210 W. Main st., Youngsville forcing the Walters' vehicle to crash into the rear of a car operated by David Patrick Morrison, 22, 1235 Conewango ave.

Police stated, the Morrison vehicle and the Walters machine were stopped due to the resurfacing work being carried on on Pennsylvania ave. W. The Hershberger vehicle had begun to slow down, according to police, when struck by the Gelotte car.

According to police damage to the Gelotte vehicle totaled $700, while damage to the Hershberger car was $175 and damage to the Walters' machine was $215. Damage to the Morrison vehicle was set at $25, police stated.

Borough police investigated an accident at 2:15 p.m. also. The mishap at the intersection of Fourth ave. and Hickory st. caused an estimated total of $550 damage, police said, when a truck operated by Tony DeFabio, 51, 108 Carver st., stopping behind two oth-

Jamestown Voters to Elect School Board Members

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Voters in the Jamestown Enlarged School District will go to the polls today to choose between three candidates bidding for two seats on the board of education. The seven polling places will open at noon today and will remain open until 9 p.m.

The three candidates for the two five-year terms are Angelo Papa, 517 Pine st.; Mrs. Katherine Ives, 39 Spruce st.; and Dr. Burton F. Klein, 123 W. Wilson pl. Papa is an employee of Martin-Rockwell div. of TRW, while Dr. Klein is a local politician. Mrs. Ives is an incumbent school board member regarded by veteran political observers as almost unbeatable.

More than 16,000 eligible voters will go to the one of seven of the city's schools, depending on which election district they reside in, to cast their ballots. The seven polling places and the election districts voting at each school include: Love School, districts, 1,2 and 3 of ward 1 and districts 1, 2 and 3 of ward 2; Euclid School, districts 4 and 5 of ward 1; district 4 of ward

2 and district 2 of ward 5; CC Ring School, districts 1, 3 and 5 of ward 5; Bush School, all five districts of ward 4, and district 3 of the Town of Kiantone; Fletcher School, districts 1,2,3 and 4 of ward 3. Persell School, district 5, of ward 3, districts 1 and 2 of ward 6 and the former district 7 of the Town of Busti; Lincoln Junior High School, district 5 of ward 2 and districts, 2, 4, and 5 of ward 6.

While more than 16,000 residents are eligible to vote fewer than 2,000 are expected to actually cast ballots. Persons unsure of where they may vote should call the school administration building at 487-1101 for information. Following the closing of the polls at 9 p.m. the unofficial returns will be brought to the school administration building at 200 E. Fourth st.

Two Persons

Escape Injury

Two persons escaped injury in a minor two car accident on Route 6 in Starbuck Monday according to state police of the local substation.

The accident occurred at 3:55 p.m. police reported, when a car operated by Raymond L. Caldwell, 17, 131 Davis st., attempted to pass a car operated by C. Thomas Wood, 24, 20 Weller rd. At the same time police said Wood started to make a left hand turn, and the two vehicles, both traveling east on the three lane side swiped. Total damage in the mishap was estimated at $275 according to police.

er cars, was struck from behind by a truck operated by William D. Francis, 50, RDI, Clarendon. Damage to the DeFabio truck was estimated at $200, police reported, while damage to the Francis truck was set at $350.

Scandia Mountains Assn. Plans Further Promotion

Meeting at the home of Clyde Miller at the Wigwam on the Scandia Road, the Scandia Mountain Association last night furthered their plans for promoting their area throughout the coming tourist season.

The matter of placing signs directing travelers to the Scandia Mountains was discussed and a letter indicating that the design previously submitted by them had met with the approval of zoning officials. After a long discussion it was decided that the location of the sign would be left to the decision of the sign committee, but would be in the general area of the Russell intersection.

A previous decision of the Scandia Mountain Association to invite outdoor writer Thad Bukowski to be their guest for a week during the coming summer was reaffirmed and arrangements were made to have the invitation extended to him personally by Don Neal, Bukowski is well known for the feature work he does for BETTER CAMPING magazine.

The matter of having the Hatch Run Road and the Scandia Road designated as The Mary Jemison Trail brought a response from President Bob Wade that Assemblyman Bill Allen was working to have this approved and word from him could be expected soon. President Wade then read a letter from the Warren JC's asking the association to participate by having a float in the Fourth of July parade. Several suggestions were considered on themes that could be presented by such a float and there was general enthusiasm among the members to support the Mary Jemison or Land of the Senecas theme as the most representative of the Scandia area's appeal to the tourist. It is expected that in some way the names of the various tourist attractions in their area could be worked out around either suggestion.

The final discussion of the evening centered around the question of either the association or its individual members becoming members of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau. Mainly, the views expressed compared the values of a regional development agency to the values of sectional effort. It is expected that a decision on the matter may be reached at the next meeting of the group on May 20. This meeting will also be held at the Miller home.

Minor Accident Is Reported

A minor accident at 9:15 p.m. Monday resulted in $85 damage to a car operated by Rita Lindgren, 25, Irvine, according to borough police.

Police stated Miss Lindgren was driving west across the Fifth st. bridge when a section of the pipe railing along the bridge broke loose hitting the right front fender of the Lindgren vehicle. The pipe then sprung back, police reported and struck the right rear fender of the car. There were no injuries reported.

Mullen Opposes Amendments To Parochial School Aid Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — A leading Democratic proponent of aid to nonpublic schools said Monday he would oppose an attempt by the Senate Administration to insert a set of three amendments into the enabling bill now before the House.

Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, said he favored the bill as now written, but probably would vote against it if the administration amendments are voted by the House.

Indications were that the amendments would be run on Tuesday and that the bill itself would be brought up for a roll call on Wednesday.

The administration declined to disclose its long-awaited proposal in the area of nonpublic school aid, but Mullen informed newsmen of the suggested changes.

Mullen said one amendment would designate revenue from thoroughbred horse racing for nonpublic schools rather than a portion of the cigarette tax, as the bill currently provides.

"I don't think we'll see any money around here for two years from flat racing," Mullen said. "The Senate hasn't even confirmed members of the racing commission yet."

The administration expected to net $8.3 million from thoroughbred racing in the coming fiscal year, but the Senate's delay in confirming a commission raised serious doubts that the sport can get under way for some time.

As now written, the amount of cigarette revenue set aside in the present aid to nonpublic schools bill would approximate $27 million annually, but the administration, complaining of fiscal problems, is not prepared for that much of an initial outlay.

Rep. Matthew F. Coppelino, R-Philadelphia, chief sponsor of the bill, was disturbed that contents of the administration's amendments had been released by Mullen.

Coppelino said he still had not made up his mind whether to back the amendments. He said he planned to discuss the matter further with administration officials and representatives of the Pennsylvania Catholic Conference, a leading force behind the legislation.

The problem that faced supporters of nonpublic school aid was whether to take what appeared to be available or to try for legislation that they may not be able to get passed.

Mullen said two other administration amendments would: — Require that nonpublic school teachers affected by the state aid program be certified immediately, rather than after five years, as now provided in the bill.

— Make the Department of Public Instruction the agency that would administer the program, rather than create an independent authority.

Mullen said he was fearful that if an authority were not set up, the courts might declare the legislation unconstitutional, since the state would be making direct appropriations to religious institutions.

Meanwhile, Rep. Donald Bair, R-Allegheny, said he planned to propose an amendment that would require a referendum by the people before the state could disburse any aid to nonpublic schools. He stressed that his recommendation did not have administration backing.

FINAL SOIL STUDY SEMINAR

Forester Ronald Armstrong, soil scientist from Monongahela National Forest in West Virginia (right) assisted by William Cerutti, soil scientist Warren County office Soil Conservation Service, will conduct third and final session in a course for some thirty members from four Ranger Districts of Allegheny National Forest Wednesday, at Forest Science Laboratory at Buckaloons in the morning, with afternoon field trip in the forest. Final ANF Soils Seminar To Be Held at Buckaloons

The third and final soils training seminar for 30 representatives from all four ranger districts of Allegheny National Forest meets Monday. A short session will be held at the forest science laboratories at Buckaloons, followed by a six-hour field trip in the Allegheny National Forest. The sessions will be conducted by Ronald Armstrong, from Monongahela National Forest, Elkins, W. Va., a soil scientist. He is assisted by James R. Cerutti, soil scientist on the staff of the Warren County office of Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

On the field trip the group will make applications of the soil survey information Cerutti has mapped in his Warren County soil survey program, which is a part of the Pennsylvania section of the national soil survey program.

The purpose of the course, as explained by William Kickbush, in charge of timber, wildlife, soils and watershed management, ANF is to supply much needed information about soils throughout the forest. "Primarily the problem is to keep our streams clean and clear, and prevent erosion and siltation," he observes. In practical application, knowledge of soil types determines whether a particular area is suitable for development as a recreation area.

Of paramount concern to the forest, Kickbush emphasizes, is finding which types of soil are best suited for optimum growth of various species of timber. Another important matter is to study soils to determine suitable locations for timbering and fire roads in the forest.

As forester Ronald Armstrong observes, no developments of any land area can be properly undertaken today without sufficient knowledge of soil conditions and underlying formations. In the forest this is involved in determining surface run-off on watersheds, and other conservation measures.

Wall of Water Traps 27 W. Va. Miners

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — A "wall of water" from an abandoned mine poured in on a coal crew Monday, trapping some of the 27 miners as far as two miles from the surface.

Officials said "we hope to get as many as 15" out sometime during the night but "we fear the worst" for the remaining twelve.

Rescue workers made contact with 17 closest to the mine opening but another ten could not be reached by radio telephone.

The mine is the Sarwell No. 8, owned by the Gaulty Coal and Coke Co., and is located about 75 miles southeast of Charleston, the state capital.

Water broke through and trapped the men just before noon while they were chipping at a coal vein. Company officials said they were working from an old map which indicated an abandoned mine was 200 feet away. But they punched through the wall and water flooded the passageways.

Big pumps were hauled into action to drain the water but there were fears that it was rising as fast as it could be pumped.

A group of students from Crichton High School helped lay lines for the pumps. But they said the water level swelled by two feet in the five minutes they were in the passageway.

The 15 in telephone contact with rescue units said they were on "fairly high ground and are okay for the time being."

They were about one mile from the mine opening on a gentle rise in the passageway and said "we have enough air."

Mine foreman, Frank Davis, and another worker were one and one-half miles from the mine opening. They were reached once by telephone but contact was then lost.

The remaining 12 workers were scattered throughout the mine, working in groups in separated pockets.

IT'S TRUE AS HARRY SUMMERS SAYS there are more boys and girls doing constructive and creative things by far, than there are delinquents (who seem to get all the loud publicity) on the rampage. . . . Tomorrow night you can have the pleasure of seeing and hearing some of these fine youngsters when they appear on the stage of the Warren Area High School Auditorium in the presentation "Music, Music, Music!" an elementary instrumental concert. Mr. Summers is the supervisor, director and instructor of the young musicians. There are 235 of them listed on the program. . . . I wish I had space to list all their names. . . . They play drums, trumpet, flute, clarinet, trombone, and they come from all the area's elementary public schools: Market Street, South Street, McClintock, Lacy, Jefferson, Home Street and North Warren, from grades 4, 5 and 6. There is no charge of admission, all persons who are interested are welcome. Mr. Summers has particularly thanked the following for their assistance: Dan Harpster, Richard West, WAHS administrators, William Oelslager, Warren School Music Boosters, Kay Farynowski, Joyce Roblin, Tom Hamilton, Beth Siefert, Debbie Spangler, Debbie Dietsch, Clayton Breit, John Mahan, Wayne Lawson, Steve Farrell, Mark Wilson, Tom Lauffenburger. . . . A NEW CLUB IS BEING FORMED AT ST. JOE'S, this one is the Rosary Making Club (its official name) and the initial, organizational meeting will be held tonight in the basement social rooms of St. Joseph School, at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Clarence Hagerman will be the instructor. The rosaries, which I understand are to be made of string, will be sent to Catholic servicemen serving in Vietnam. All who are interested in this volunteer work are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

ANOTHER CLUB THAT IS BEING ORGANIZED. . . . or rather. . . . is in its initial stages, having been organized at a previous meeting, is the Sheffield Junior Twirlette Mothers. Their purpose is to assist the Corps by raising money to cover necessary expenses, such as the cost of new uniforms, and expenses encountered when the popular group participates in parades and competitions in other communities and areas. Tomorrow night's meeting will take place at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert Dunn Jr., at Saybrook. All mothers of the Corps members are asked to become a part of the new organization.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a registered nurse who would like to express a point of view in behalf of those of us who staff hospitals. I am not being dramatic when I say we are trained in the tradition of the theater. The show must go on, regardless of bad news from home, our own aches and pains, financial worries, in-law problems—whatever.

Illness does not give a patient the right to be abusive or downright nasty. Physicians, nurses and technicians do not wish to inflict pain or discomfort on patients, but often it is necessary in order to do the tests. Some patients act as if we hurt them purposely for some sadistic reasons.

After spending many years in hospitals I am firmly convinced that illness does not alter one's personality. Genuinely nice people remain nice, in spite of pain and misery. The nasty ones who use sickness as an excuse to be mean are fooling no one. . . . OLD STARCHY

DEAR OLD STARCHY: One of the principal tests of maturity is the ability to tolerate discomfort and anxiety without taking it out on others. This holds true for waitress, teacher, salesperson and secretary, as well as the physician, nurse, technician and patient.

Your statement that individuals who staff hospitals are trained in the theater is correct. But Shakespeare's statement was closer to the truth when he said: "All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players."

Confidential to Conservative Or Cheap?: Why the antics with semantics? He's cheap and furthermore he has proven it every Saturday for two months. The cooks in some of the restaurants are pretty good, too. Suggest he give them a chance.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD A. McWILLIAMS

Sara A. Guiffre Is Bride Of Richard A. McWilliams

St. Joseph Church was the setting for the Nuptial Mass which united in marriage Sara A. Guiffre and Richard A. McWilliams on Saturday, April 27, at 12 noon. Celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Father Alfred M. Bauer, pastor of the church. The double ring wedding rites were observed. Mrs. Thomas Donnelly provided the wedding music at the organ, and Robert Dietsch was the vocal soloist.

The candlelighted altar was banked with ferns and topiary trees and at either side was a standing vase of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Guiffre of 615 Henry street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWilliams of 509 Prospect street.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of imported silk organza and Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a heart-shaped necklace, the gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was an old-fashioned cascade of miniature white carnations, pearly stephanotis with clouds of baby's breath.

Attending the bride were Miss Karen Font of Youngsville, cousin of the bride, as the maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Christine Golbo of Paramus, New Jersey, cousin of the bride, and Miss Margaret Broderick. All were in toga dresses of mint chiffon with veils depending from a rose of mint chiffon accented with florets and seed pearls. Their flowers were elongated pendulums of yellow daisies and status with moss green velvet ribbon accents.

The best man was the brother of the bride, Anthony J. Guiffre of Glen Burnie, Md., and ushers were Donald Schreckengost of Saranac Lake, New York, James Schreckengost, both cousins of the groom and John R. Sirrianni Jr., uncle of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose an ensemble of romance shantung with matching lace coat, with a corsage of white daisies and pink sweetheart roses. The mother of the groom selected an ensemble of Nile green, with a corsage of white sweetheart roses and green carnations.

A reception was held at St. Paul's Center at Saybrook immediately after the wedding. Decorations emphasizing an orchid and white theme, included a centerpiece at the bride's table of white snapdragons, white carnations and white daisies, white snapdragons and lavender carnations. The aids had white carnation corsages. Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Sirrianni were the master and mistress of ceremonies; aunts were Anita Marceca, Mary Carol Guiffre and Christine Guiffre, both cousins of the bride. Mr. Sirrianni had a boutonniere and Mrs. Sirrianni, a corsage of a pink and white carnations.

For a wedding trip to New Jersey, Maryland and Washington, D.C., the new Mrs. McWilliams wore a navy blue ensemble. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams will reside at 210 Connecticut ave., Warren.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Warren Area High School. Mrs. McWilliams is employed at Struthers Scientific, and Mr. McWilliams, who served for two years in the United States Army, is now associated with the Warren Boro Police Department.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. J. W. Guiffre; co-workers of Struthers Scientific; Mrs. William Colgrove, Miss Ruth Figliuzzi and Mrs. A. Figliuzzi; Mrs. Santo Faddale and Mrs. Leo Rich; Mrs. A. A. Marceca; Mrs. M. J. Sirrianni; Miss Karen Font and Miss Margaret Broderick. The luncheon for the bridesmaids was given at the Blue Manor by the bride. The rehearsal dinner was given at the Blue Manor by Mr. and Mrs. R. McWilliams.

Those attending the wedding from out of town came from Saugus, Mass.; Glen Burnie, Md.; Saranac Lake, N.Y.; Paramus, N.Y.; Cleveland, Ohio; Olean, N.Y.; Meadville, Bradford, and Oil City, Penna.; Everett, Mass.

Establishment of public schools for girls began in Saudi Arabia in 1960.

"COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE"

COLOR, more than anything else, can set the tone of a room's decor. But where do you begin to create a color scheme? How do you choose colors? The answer to these questions will, of course, vary if you are starting a room from scratch, or if you must use existing colors. In a bare room, you have free rein. The best rule is to start with a basic color that you like personally, one you can live with for a long time. You can use this color either as the background, in draperies, walls and floor coverings, or as the key color in a major piece of furniture, usually the sofa.

Monochromatic color schemes have been popular in recent years — that is, the use of varying shades of the same color, such as beige used with cocoas and browns and rusts. But there is also a current swing toward bolder colors and sharper contrasts in color. The choice here is again a personal one. However, it's often wise to use dramatic, strong colors in things you can change without great expense or trouble, such as wallpaper, accessories or smaller pieces. Choose major pieces, such as sofa or sectional, in colors you won't tire of.

If you have questions about your color scheme, or the selection of complementary pieces to fit into your present room, we'll be glad to help you answer them. Stop in soon and talk it over.

Bishops Committee To Meet At Holy Redeemer

Because they know that the first school is always the home, and the best teachers should always be the parents, Holy Redeemer Parish has an interesting program designed to help the young mothers and fathers of the parish in the religious education of their pre-school children. The program is part of the National Confraternity of Christian Doctrine organization—the Parent-Educator Division—and is known in the Erie Diocese as the Bishop's Committee for Christian Families.

Mrs. Albert Kondak, chairman, called a meeting for Thursday, May 9, at 9:30 a.m. in Bishop Whealon Hall (formerly Holy Redeemer Hall) to acquaint the Pastor, the Rev. Joseph Seyboldt, and the Warren County CCD supervisor, Sister Kathleen Hagan, C.D.S., with the progress her dedicated group is making. In January she was able to report having visited 124 homes to welcome new babies into the Holy Redeemer Parish Family. At the present time about 65 families are being visited regularly every three months until the child is three years of age, and after that at six-month intervals until the child is five years old.

The Bishop's Committee members have all been specially trained by the Sisters of the Congregation of the Divine Spirit and certified for this Home Visitation work. They are: Mrs. Shirley Dunkel, Mrs. Julius Fino, Mrs. Angelo Gallano, Mrs. George Hoden, Mrs. Burdette Hunter, Mrs. Calvin Lawson, Mrs. Chester Munksgard, Mrs. Carl Pasquarette, Mrs. Carl Papalia, Mrs. Robert Probst, Mrs. Wesley Redfield, Mrs. Ross L. Ruhlman Jr. and Mrs. John Salamon.

Assisting them as auxiliary members are: Mrs. Henry Fasennmyer, Mrs. Paul Constable, Mrs. Paul Richert, Mrs. Leo Baker, Mrs. Forest Curtis, Mrs. Louis Reo, Mrs. Willard Foley, Mrs. Peter Carnovale, Mrs. Bernard Fasennmyer and Mrs. Louis Kane.

It is hoped that in the course of the summer months the auxiliaries, too, will be able to take the training course for certification. Knowing that the whole, well-adjusted children of today will be the outstanding adults of tomorrow, makes the work of this group especially rewarding and enjoyable.

Finley-Fallin Wedding Vows Pledged In Naval Chapel

The United States Naval Station Chapel in Newport, Rhode Island, was the setting for the pledge of wedding vows between Anne Elliott Finley and Ensign Jack Franklin Fallin Jr. USNR on April 26, at 7:30 that evening. Chaplain Henry C. Duncan, Commander, United States Navy, read the double ring wedding rites for the candlelight ceremony.

The bride was gown in a shell color Italian silk sleeveless sheath. The afternoon length dress had a jewel neckline; her only jewelry was a pink cameo brooch which had belonged to her maternal grandmother. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion, which the bride designed, depended from a circlet of grosgrain ribbon with a Dior bow in back; she carried a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was Miss Sandra Fox of Brockton, Mass., in a pale blue dress of chiffon with matching accessories and a white headress. She had white cymbidium orchids.

The best man was Mr. William Stuek of Manchester, Connecticut.

The mother of the bride wore a teal blue silk dress with matching jacket and accessories and pink cymbidium orchids.

A dinner at The Coachman in Tiverton, R.I., followed the wedding ceremony.

For traveling throughout southeastern New England, the new Mrs. Fallin wore a street length coat which matched her wedding dress. Ensign and Mrs. Fallin will be stationed in San Francisco, after May 10.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Warren Area High School, class of 1960. The bride graduated from Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing, and attended Boston University and the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y. Mr. Fallin graduated magna cum laude from Colgate University, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honor fraternity, and Phi Kappa Tau, social fraternity. He received a Bachelor of Law degree from Harvard University Law School in 1967. His present duty as Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve has him assigned to duty aboard the U.S.S. Vega.

Nuptial Service Solemnized In St. Luke's R.C. Church

Linda Mae Rensma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Rensma of RDI, Youngsville, was married recently to Richard Stuart Lightner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Lightner of 7930 Lloyd Avenue, Pittsburgh, Penna.

The nuptial vows were solemnized at St. Luke's Church in Youngsville, with the Rev. Father Charles Hurley officiating. Wedding music was provided by the organist, Mrs. John Pappalardo. Two all white standing vases of gladioli and apricot carnations were at each side of the candle lighted altar.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white pure silk or a "A" silhouette. The molded empire bodice was appliqued with delicate rosepoint lace and fashioned with a bateau neckline. The lace formed the short scalloped sleeves and the princess panel of the floor length skirt. Clusters of seed pearls and crystal teardrops highlighted the lace. A crown of crystals secured her ballerina length veil of English lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with streamers accented with white sweetheart rosebuds.

The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Inter of Youngsville; the bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Rensma of State College, sister of the bride; and Miss Sharon Bohman of State College. Each carried a bouquet of long stem white roses, accented with velvet white ribbon. They were gowned alike, in apricot floor length "A" line gowns. Their bouffant veils were matching French braid looped butterfly bows.

The best man was Edgar R. Turner of State College; other groomsmen were Wayne D. Davies of State College and Elmer Beatty of Pittsburgh; ushers were Steven E. Rensma, brother of the bride and Douglas Savage, cousin of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose a light blue two-piece lace dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and blue daisies.

The mother of the groom was in a beige coat and dress ensemble with darker beige accessories. She wore a corsage of tallman sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in St. Luke's social hall for approximately one hundred fifty guests. Decorations included arrangements of apricot carnations and small white pompons. The four tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was encircled with greenery and roses.

Aides were Mrs. Karen Donachie, Mrs. Mary Ann Grant, Mrs. Dianna Turner and Mrs. Emma Shaffer, aunt of the bride. Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

The bride is a graduate of Youngsville High School and The Pennsylvania State University. She is presently teaching General Science at the Slippery Rock Area High School.

The groom is a graduate of Swissvale High School, Pittsburgh, and The Pennsylvania State University. He is presently pursuing his Master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

A pre-nuptial party was given by Mrs. Karen Donachie of Slippery Rock.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Lightner plan to make their home in Pittsburgh.

CONNIE SMITH

June Date Is Set

Mrs. Bea Clawson announces the engagement of her daughter Connie Smith, to Lt. David M. Crippen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crippen of Youngsville. The bride-elect is also the daughter of the late William R. Smith of Connautville, Penna. The bride-elect is attending Providence School of Nursing, Sandusky, Ohio. Her fiancé, a graduate of Otterbein College is presently stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus, Ohio.

The wedding is planned for June 8.

North Warren Youth Club Member Of Larger Group

The Youth Club of North Warren's United Presbyterian Church, the membership of which is comprised of school children in the grades 4 to 9, participate as members of a larger "parent" organization, the Youth Club Program, Inc., which features the Logos Studies, whose headquarters and publication offices are at the Beulah Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh.

Only one more weekly session remains, the 8th and final one of this season, for the local group; it will be held tomorrow from 3:45 to 7 p.m. The eight-week program has proven so successful in the North Warren Church that plans are being made for a similar program in the Fall.

At last week's meeting assisting the staff were: Mrs. Richard Lath, Frank Cruickshank, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. Maurice Place, Mrs. Everett Stoke, Mrs. Delmar VanKippe, Mrs. S. J. Richter, Walter Heibick and Mrs. Leon Allen. Miss Karen Hogue led a "sing-along." Dessert for the dinner was provided by the Laura Hotel Circle.

The sessions include a Bible Study period, choir, recreation and dinner. The Christian Education Program emphasizes the development of acceptable kinds of teaching materials for each grade.

There is a proverb in Yemen, "It is not wise to let women of the devil wander the streets in the darkness."

Girl Scouts Board Meeting Tomorrow

The Spring board meeting of Penn Lakes Girl Scout Council will be held tomorrow at the headquarters office in Meadville.

The president, Mrs. John Briggs, Erie, will make appointments of board committee chairmen, district chairmen and newly-elected neighborhood chairmen.

St. Michael's Notes

Members of St. John Lodge, Br. 53, Providence Association held a meeting after the Choral Divine Liturgy on Sunday instead of Mother's Day.

The Women's Society of St. Michael will hold a meeting at 7:45 tonight in the pavilion and drawing for the weekend trip for two to New York.

Armstrong-Wilson Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Armstrong Jr., of 356 River rd., Warren announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara, to Richard J. Wilson, son of Mrs. Evelyn Wilson of 36 N. State street, North Warren. The wedding took place on May 3, in the North Warren United Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Nelson Beck performing the double ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were Miss Daralyn Darts of Russell and Mark Wilson, brother of the groom. The bride is a 1965 graduate of Warren Area High School, and is employed at the New Process Company. The groom, a graduate of Warren Area High School, class of 1961, served two years with the U.S. Army and is now employed at Midtown Motors.

Hayseed Cootiettes Meeting Held

The Hayseed Cootiette Club 302 members recently held their regular monthly meeting, presiding officer being the Past Chief Grayback, Mrs. R. W. Swanson. The meeting was held in the Post room at the V.F.W. 631 Club.

During the business session, plans were discussed for attending the State Department meeting at Meadville in June. A contribution will be sent toward the Grand Grayback's gift; also to be sent are gifts for a bazaar, the proceeds of which are used for hospital work. Each Cootiette Club will donate cookies for the afternoon tea. Plans were made to participate in Loyalty Day in Titusville as well as the Memorial Day services here in Warren. The next regular meeting will be held in the V.F.W. 631 Club Post room on Wednesday June 5.

Special devotions to the Blessed Virgin Mary will be celebrated at 7 p.m. Saturday for Mothers and the next day, the First Communion class will receive the Sacred Mysteries of the Most Holy Eucharist for the first time during the 8 a.m. Spoken Divine Liturgy of Mother's Day.

The church officers held a meeting after the Sunday Divine Liturgy in preparation for the visit of the Eparch, Bishop Stephen J. Kocisko will visit the parish Sunday, May 19, to dedicate the new altar and chancel screen, as well as the Byzantine mosaic icons which were executed in Rome.

The schedule of Liturgies for Sunday, May 19, will consist of only one Divine Liturgy in the morning at 8 o'clock and the solemn Pontifical Divine Liturgy of Bishop Kocisko at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A dinner will follow in the church pavilion at 6:30 p.m.

The Franciscan Custody of St. Mary of the Angels has announced the ordination of Deacon George Appleyard by Bishop Kocisko to the priesthood April 27 in Holy Protection Monastery, New Canaan, Conn.

Father Appleyard is instructor in liturgy at the mon-

Toner-Mowrey Vows Exchanged In 1st Methodist

Frieda M. Toner and Emerson P. Mowrey were united in marriage on Thursday, May 2, in a 7 o'clock evening wedding service held in the First Methodist Church, Warren. The Rev. James G. Cousins officiated at the ceremony which was attended by their children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Harry Huchabone, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and Mr. Harry Huchabone, brother-in-law of the bride, was the best man.

After the wedding service, a dinner was served at the Mineral Well Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowrey will be at home to relatives and friends at 1629 Jackson Run road until July, at which time they will leave for a trip throughout western United States.

Church Youth To Hear Doctor Judd

Dr. Walter H. Judd, medical doctor and former congressman from Minnesota, will be in Jamestown to address the community's young people at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 9, in the First Lutheran Church. His topic will be "The Price of Freedom."

Before his election to Congress, Dr. Judd served as medical director in Asia under auspices of the Congressional Church. In 1942 he was elected to Congress and served for 20 years.

Currently Dr. Judd is a contributing editor to the Reader's Digest, provides a brief daily commentary on world events heard on more than 900 radio stations and continues to speak throughout the country.

WSCS DuBois Meeting This Thursday

The Kane District Annual Spring meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be held May 9, Thursday, from 10:00 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of DuBois, Pennsylvania.

A very interesting program has been planned for the day which will be expected to be inspirational and informative for every woman attending. The principal speaker of the day is Mrs. Gerald Bishop, member of the Women's Division, of the Board of Missions of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and chairman of the Committee on Spiritual Life. Her topic will be "We've a Story to Tell".

No luncheon reservations are needed as it is a "nose bag" lunch with the beverage and dessert provided by the local church. An unusual luncheon is planned with every one participating. Every woman who can possibly attend is urged to do so, and, if transportation is needed please call Mrs. Raymond Rapp, phone 723-5226.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Gals:

Let's all make a splash on Broadway.

We know we can't but I will tell you how to give yourself that feeling.

As soon as you finish reading this, put the paper down and go dump your whole costume jewelry drawer on the kitchen table.

Pick out your favorite pieces and put them back in the drawer. The pieces you haven't worn in ages . . . just leave on the table.

I'll bet you a buffalo nickel you'll end up with half of what's been laying in that drawer for the last ten years.

I just did this and you'd be surprised what I got rid of. Some of it was too good to throw away. So my teenage daughter, one of her friends, and a neighbor picked out pieces they liked.

Now gals, your neighbor probably has some jewelry, too, that is just cluttering up her drawer. So why not trade?

Leave it on the table so your neighbor and friends will see it. Always remember that one woman's "castoffs" may be her neighbor's gold mine. That's why they put ads in the paper and have garage sales.

So what's wrong with trading with your neighbors, or advertising it in your local newspaper and getting rid of that stuff?

Sure will make your house-keeping easier.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

For ceramic tile that gets dark in the cracks, I use white shoe polish.

I just apply it with the applicator, let it stand for 24 hours and use a damp sponge and a dry cloth to remove excess from the tile the next day.

This really works and is much easier than painting with a small brush. It may require two or three coats, but then it only needs repeating about twice a year.

A. D.

DEAR HELOISE:

I've found the nicest way to carry deviled eggs to a picnic or party. I dye a papier-mache egg carton in water to make a few drops of cake coloring has been added and let it dry. Then I put wax paper in each little cup and place my eggs in it.

I cover the top of the carton with adhesive-backed paper. This makes an attractive container and when I arrive at my destination the eggs are in fine shape.

They can be served right in the box, too.

Mrs. Viney Byars

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is an idea I got the other day while I watched a friend try to teach her little boy how to dress himself.

Why not make a book for your particular child to learn from? On cloth pages, put a zipper, button and buttonhole, hook and eye, snaps, a buckle, shoe laces etc.

I mentioned it to my friend and she simply adored it. She made one for her son and he has quite a time enjoying it and getting educated at the same time.

I am now making one for my little girl—even if she is only nine months old!

Mommy Linda

DEAR HELOISE:

Our beds and sofa are so low that my vacuum cleaner cannot go under them.

So I cut large plastic mats or runners to fit, and placed them under the beds and sofa where I cannot reach with the sweeper. Once a week I just pull out the plastic and wipe it with a damp cloth.

Saves me pulling and pushing heavy furniture around to clean under.

Mrs. W. D. Root

Old shower curtains are also great for this.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Did you ever drop a bobby pin or part of an earring down the drain of the bathroom basin and had to remove the goose-necked trap to get it out?

Well, I bought a magnet shaped like a pencil, tied it to a string and lowered it into the basin drain.

Presto, up came the item.

Mrs. Alfred Tentindo

BUSES WITH SILENT

BEEDERS BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—An electronic automatic bus identification system that can summon police, maintenance or supervisory assistance, as well as improve efficiency, was introduced here by Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

The system features a solid-state FM receiver that can be mounted on utility poles or buildings along bus routes. Each bus in a fleet would be equipped with a tiny FM transmitter which could send out a special identification signal continuously.

As the bus comes within 50 feet of a receiver, its signal is picked up and transmitted to a central computer location where it is available to dispatchers.

The part of the system that calls police, maintenance or supervisors is an "emergency beacon" and is an optional feature.

If the Shoe Fits

James R. Valone

MORE ON GOOD SHOE FITTING

As stated last week, the start of a good fit is to have the ball of the foot exactly in the widest part of the shoe. This will assure an excellent inside arch fit with adequate toe room. With an appropriate measuring device, we can measure both heel-to-toe length and also heel-to-ball of the foot length. In most cases the heel-to-ball measurement translated into shoe length will show a larger size. A size 6 heel-to-toe measure may read a 6 1/2 or 7 on the heel-to-ball measure. It is most appropriate to fit with the larger 6 1/2 or 7.

This will also insure a person with weak arches plenty of toe room. A weak arch foot spreads out abnormally when pressure is applied. When we take this heel-to-ball measurement, we shoe fitters have to consider if a person has a long arch-short toe combination, or a short arch-long toe, or any other unique combination. In some cases a person will measure a size 7 heel-to-toe but only a size 6 heel-to-ball. In such case, the shoemaker should select a last of shoe which has a long vamp for accurate fitting. You can begin to understand the need for training and experience in shoe fitting if the customer is to be properly fitted and avoid foot troubles.

East found himself confronted with an early discarding problem in defending against South's six heart contract, and when he failed to analyze the situation thoroughly, the result was a loss that ran into four figures.

West opened the king of diamonds and when the queen appeared from his partner's hand, it was easy to read East for a singleton. West accordingly continued with a small diamond. Declarer ruffed with dummy's king of hearts in order to protect himself against an overruff.

East was called on to make a discard and, after considerable thought, he gave up the deuce of spades. South proceeded to draw trump in four rounds and then cashed the three top spades. When East's ten succumbed on the third round, North's long card in the suit became established for declarer's 12th trick. The count was four spades, four hearts, three clubs, and one diamond ruff.

East's spade discard at trick two dealt a mortal blow to the defensive cause. Equally fatal, however, would have been a sluff in clubs. Inasmuch as East has the sole burden of protecting against both of dummy's long suits, he cannot afford to part with a black card.

The only safe sluff available to East, then, is a trump. By playing a small heart under the king, he can postpone the decision of which side suit to give up until declarer has made a commitment from dummy.

Observe that as trumps are drawn, the North hand must make the first discard. On the third heart, a club may be thrown as East follows with his last trump. If a fourth heart is led, then dummy must part with either another club or a spade. Whichever is chosen, East can now safely discard from the same suit and declarer will eventually fall one trick short.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—In areas which may have displeased you recently, did you really TRY to straighten things out efficiently? This day asks greater effort in the "little" things, to avoid slipping backward, losing perspective.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Your planetary influences somewhat adverse now. You probably won't receive cooperation you hoped for, and you may encounter quite a bit of dissension and irritability. But hold yourself in check and you can cope.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Here is a day for putting fresh touches to the outmoded, to refurbish, add color and new light to everything about you. Emphasize your innate love of beauty.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Not all "eye-catchers" have quality beneath their glamorous surfaces. Be sure of REAL values before you invest time or money in any undertaking.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Traits to emphasize now: High principles, common sense and your sense of humor. Some annoying situations possible. During leisure hours, have some fun and relaxation as an antidote.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Study all situations thoroughly, then go into action with surety and confidence. Acting without thorough preparation could result in errors.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Your Venus, highly auspicious, offers wide horizons, an accelerated pace of activity and new interests; also favors romance, family affairs and artistic interests.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Your Mars fairly generous. Embark on something different if it will help you or others. This should be a good day for personal relationships, and any joint planning should work out well.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Don't procrastinate in matters which need prompt attention—no matter how boring or irksome. A lively attitude will attract the results you want.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Important this day: Careful timing and selectivity in the endeavors on which you expend energies. Ignore complainers and pessimists. They are time-wasters and can only succeed in throwing you off course.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Your planets, favorably aspected, can put you way in the winner's column if you avoid dubious propositions and devious routes. You have the ingredients with which to BUILD! PECCES (February 20 to March 20)—Big reforms and less important matters must be amplified by greater fervor if they are to succeed. Your role now is the persuader, the motivator. Lobby for good will.

YOU BORN today love modesty, logic, harmony; would rather arbitrate than come to blows. You are curious, like to know the whys and wherefores of everything within your sphere of activity. Unusually well versed in a number of matters, you can talk interestingly on many subjects. You may learn to cope with great opposition; may pursue an earning hobby along with your regular occupation; also, the Taurus often goes from one full career to another, and still another during a lifetime. Retirement from one does not prevent you from launching another quickly, successfully. Birthdate of: Robert Browning, poet; Peter I. Tchaikovsky and Johannes Brahms, composers.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

VACCINE COCKTAIL

Within the next decade, a one-shot vaccine cocktail may protect us against 10 or more diseases. The procedure may be an annual affair, but this is a small price to pay for immunity. It will protect us against German measles, chickenpox, and several viral diseases.

Last year a threat of smallpox stimulated interest in perfecting a potent vaccine using modern techniques. After all, the original was concocted by Edward Jenner in 1796. The outcome will be interesting because habits are difficult to change and vaccination customs are no exception.

An experimental vaccine tried at the University of Colorado School of Medicine has given good results. A combined measles-smallpox product has been tested and may soon be available.

The new mumps vaccine ought to be given to adolescents and adult men who have not had the disease. These individuals are more susceptible to complications involving the reproductive organs. One injection confers as much immunity as an attack of natural mumps. Like other viral vaccines, it should be used with caution on individuals who are sensitive to eggs, meat, chicken feathers, or neomycin. It should not be given during pregnancy.

An oral polio vaccine has replaced Dr. Salk's product. The first measles vaccine made of inactivated viruses will be replaced by a preparation made from live, but weakened (attenuated), organisms. Physicians found that the inactivated vaccine caused unusual localized and systemic reactions when the recipient was exposed to natural measles or received the attenuated vaccine at a later date. Rash, fever, malaise, and signs of toxicity ensued.

Work is progressing on respiratory virus vaccines. Every year investigators update the influenza vaccine. Protection against adenoviral infections is now available; the German measles vaccine will be, in the next few years.

TOMORROW: Nut Behind the Wheel.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CURING CHILD OF BLINKING

Mrs. O. writes: Can a child be cured of blinking? This habit began two months ago.

REPLY
Tics of this nature are best treated by paying no attention to them. They usually begin when a child mimics a friend or relative or develops an eye infection that irritates the lids. Poor vision also may be responsible.

LINIMENTS OR MASSAGE?

A reader writes: Are liniments helpful because their ingredients penetrate the skin, or does the massage make a person feel better?

REPLY
It is the massage. Liniments impart a feeling of warmth to the skin, but how deeply they penetrate underlying tissues is a moot question.

How to raise your sights without raising your new-car investment.

Just do one simple thing
many low-priced-car buyers should do, and don't. Price
check an Olds 88.
You'll discover a lot of so-called low-price cars cost as much or more.
Suddenly, you can raise your sights to a full size
Olds 88 and all its benefits.

You'll gain Olds big-car room. Big-car stability.
Big-car comfort from a full 123-
inch wheelbase.
Plus the extra assurance that's yours in an Oldsmobile.

You'll also be rid of some problems, too. Like paying extra for a big V-8 engine.
(And our Rocket 350 runs smooth and easy on regular gas.)
That's a pretty good return on no increase in investment, isn't it?

TROPHY WINNERS

Dave Titus, our local game protector, called me the other day. "Don," he said, "we had a couple of Triple Trophy winners in Warren last fall and I have finally got their certificates and arm patches. I'd like to have a picture taken when I present them to the fellows. How about it?"

"Anytime, Dave," I told him. For I was just as anxious to see those Triple Trophy awards presented as Dave was to be handing them out. They're not easy to come by in any county, and because we have so few bear in Warren County the hunter who grabs one of these prizes just has to be something more than an ordinary gun toter.

Being a Triple Award winner means that the hunter has taken his bear, deer and turkey all in the same season. The award is made by the Pennsylvania Game Commission through the local game protector after it is fully determined that the win is on the up and up, and the hunter was hunting legally when the kills were made.

Now with the average hunter feeling well pleased with himself if he gets his buck, and the above average hunter swelling out his chest until the buttons pop if he can brag that he also got his turkey, I just wanted to see what state of ecstasy a couple of hunters who had knocked off all three would be in when they were handed the awards. So I made a date to meet them and Dave at Bob Holme's gas station the next day.

It turned out that the winners of the Triple Trophy awards were Bob Ent and Denny Platt. Which wasn't too surprising in that both of these fellows had long ago established their reputations as above average hunters, and both can give a good account of themselves on the fishing streams. In short, they are both all around sportsmen.

Well, it didn't take Dave long to hand out the certificates and hold up the arm patches to each fellow's shoulder to show him how nice the colorful insignia was going to look on his jacket. In the meantime I snapped a couple of shots and the official part of the program was over. But then we got to talking.

Denny Platt said that he had just missed getting one of the awards last year. He got the buck and turkey alright, but missed the shot on his bear when he failed to push the safety on his gun all the way off. But he was satisfied, he said. The buck was a real prize eight-point, the best deer among the four eight-points and a seven-point he has killed in the last five years. It was a real thrill to get it too, Denny said. He had his bear and turkey, so when he knocked over his buck on the second day of the season it didn't look so much like just another buck, but more like a Triple Trophy award hanging on the wall at home.

Bob Ent couldn't remember his record on deer. He did say, though, that he hadn't missed his deer in years and that he hadn't missed getting his turkey in eighteen years. And even getting the Triple Trophy award came close to being old stuff to Bob. If the Game Commission would have been handing out the awards in 1964 the one this year would have been his second. For Bob pulled the hat trick that year, too.

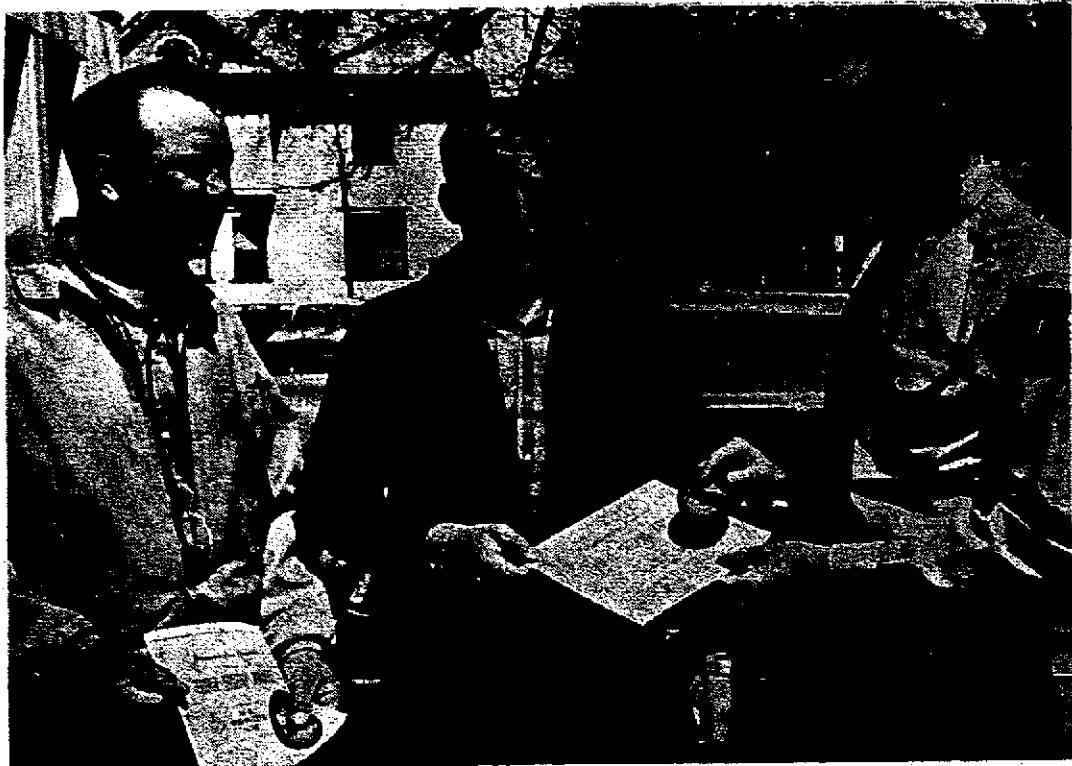

Then there was another thing bothering Bob. He would have given his right leg to see his son standing there getting the award in his place, or at least with him. His 16-year-old son Randy had killed a deer and a turkey but missed qualifying for an award when a wounded bear got away from him. That's coming close. And I think any hunter who has a 16-year-old son or ever had one knows how Bob felt about it.

Both hunters hedged a little bit when I asked them how long they thought it would be before they hit the jackpot again. But both said they were going to keep right on giving it the old hard try. If they do it won't be too long before either one of these fellows (or both) will be in the lineup again.

I finally got around to asking Dave if there was any chance that more hunters would qualify for the Triple Trophy during the spring gobbler season. Dave said there were two who could—Meritt Thomas and Norm Yeagle—so far as he could remember.

And of course, Dave was pretty well pleased that even two of the awards had come into Warren County. As he pointed out, the chance of getting one in a county where only 12 to 20 bear are killed in a season reduces the chances considerably, and makes it fairly evident that the hunter who does qualify is a pretty darn good hunter. Then too, Dave said, the turkey hasn't been abundant in this county too long. But our turkey hunters have improved to the point now where the turkey isn't giving them too much trouble.

In fact, Dave's quite sure, he'll be handing out some more certificates in the not too distant future.

GET AWARDS

Bob Ent, 32 Box Lane, and Denny Platt, 15 Branch street, were awarded "Triple Trophy" certificates and arm patches by game protector Dave Titus for having accomplished what amounts to the sportsman's "hat trick." That is, both qualified for the awards by killing a deer, bear and wild turkey during the 1967 season. These are the first such awards to be made to Warren County hunters since the Pennsylvania Game Commission started the program two years ago. (Photo by Mansfield)

Dancer's Image Fit and Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image, the winner of the Kentucky Derby, galloped two miles Monday, and trainer Lou Cavalaris pronounced his weak-ankled charge fit.

"He's a better horse today than he's ever been," Cavalaris said after the gallop at Churchill Downs which seemed another world Monday.

Although racing continued at the historic track, gone was most of the giant crowd that thronged its feelings through the fresh Kentucky air as Dancer's Image charged through the stretch to win last Saturday's 94th running of the Derby.

Gone, too, were the seemingly endless miles of television cables and most of the horde of newsmen, photographers and broadcasters that gathers every year to make the Derby one of America's most closely covered sporting events.

The special season, scheduled because of the state's rapidly increasing turkey population, will close on May 11. Shooting hours are from 30 minutes before sunrise until 10 a. m., and hunters must be out of the woods by 11 a. m.

Only bearded turkeys may be taken during the season, and shotguns and bows and arrows are the only weapons hunters are permitted to use. Hunting is restricted to calling only.

Cards Beat Mets

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lou Brock opened the 11th inning with a triple and Orlando Cepeda singled him home, giving Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets and Tom Seaver Monday night.

Brock's hit, only the second of Seaver since the second inning, went to deep left center and the Mets walked the next two hitters intentionally before Cepeda delivered.

Gibson, 3-1, gave up only three hits, none in the last seven innings, and struck out 11 as he bested Seaver, 1-2, who allowed only six hits.

The Mets tied the score in the fourth inning by bunting all their hits off Gibson, Bud Harrelson and Ken Boswell led off the inning with singles and Art Shamsky drove in the run with the third straight single.

New York had a chance at another run in the inning but Boswell was tagged out at home when he slid past the plate and couldn't get back in time.

St. Louis nicked Seaver for an unearned run in the second. Tim McCarver singled and reached second on a throwing error by Ed Kranepool.

McDowell Strikes Out 14; Breaks Feller's Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam McDowell struck out 14 batters breaking the American League's consecutive-game strikeout record, and drove in two runs with a single Monday night as Cleveland beat the New York Yankees 3-2.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees hit his 522nd career homer in the first inning, moving into fourth place on the all-time homer list ahead of Ted Williams. McDowell, a hard-throwing left-hander, struck out 16 batters in his last appearance against Oakland and his two-game total of 30 broke Bob Feller's league record of 28 strikeouts in consecutive games set in 1938. Sandy Kousser holds the major league record with 31 strikeouts in two games in 1959.

McDowell struck out the side in the seventh, the final out moving him ahead of Feller. He gave up seven hits and walked

Pirates Edge Braves, 2-1 Bunning Wins 3rd Game

ATLANTA (AP) — Donn Clendenon belted his fourth home run of the season in the fourth inning with a man on, propelling the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 2-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves Monday night.

Loser Pat Jarvis had retired the first 11 hitters before Roberto Clemente beat out a hit to short and Clendenon followed with his blast over the left field fence.

Atlanta got its run off Jim Bunning in the fifth when Felipe Alou singled and Tommy Jackson tripled him home.

Bunning allowed only four hits but was unable to finish when he limped off the field in the eighth inning when he apparently twisted his ankle when Alou singled through the middle. The Pittsburgh trainer said the right-hander apparently suffered a slight sprain of the right ankle. The injury was not believed serious.

Ron Kline relieved and saved Bunning's third victory against two losses.

Jarvis gave up only four hits as his record fell to 2-3.

Rookie One-Hits Tigers, Orioles Win 8th in Row

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Dave Leonard of Baltimore allowed one hit a single by Jim Northrup with two out in the seventh—and pitched the Orioles to a 4-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday night.

It was the eighth consecutive victory and the 13th in the last 15 starts for the red-hot Orioles, who widened their American League lead over the second-place Tigers to 2 1/2 games.

Northrup sliced a 1-2 pitch to left, ending Leonard's bid to join teammate Tom Phoebus as a no-hit pitcher this season. Phoebus hurled his against the Boston Red Sox on April 27.

Leonard, a 26-year-old right-hander, walked or hit a Detroit batter with a pitch in every inning.

The Washington Post said Friday the investigation is aimed at interstate gambling. It said those summoned have been called merely to give information. There was no indication of irregularities in professional games.

Several of the witnesses, including O'Brien, are restaurant owners.

Records in federal court at Alexandria, Va., listed Guglielmi, television sportscaster, William J. McColgan and supper club owner Pete Boinis, captain of the 1960 Maryland football team, as among those subpoenaed.

O'Brien said Thursday night he has been summoned also. The tackle is a nine-year vet.

Among the other witnesses summoned were former club operator Garret F. Quinn, convicted on a gambling charge in 1957; Eugene J. Corsi, defendant in a gambling trial that ended with a deadlocked jury the same year, and John R. Sellers, former bank teller convicted of embezzlement in 1958.

The subpoenas were obtained by U.S. Attorney C. Vernon Spratley, who declined comment on the investigation.

TABLEAU AT THIRD

Although Athletic catcher Phil Root has the ball on Oriole Frank Robinson at third base, and the umpire signals, "out," Robby points his finger and makes his point. The Oriole claimed that A's shortstop Al Campaneris obstructed his run from first to third on a grounder by Boog Powell. After a talk, Umpire Jim Honochick's call was changed from "out" to "safe."

Rose Rushes To Hit Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rose by any other name is Mr. Hustle and Cincinnati's hustling outfielder is advancing swiftly toward a club consecutive hitting streak record while pacing the National League in batting.

Rose, a specialist in compiling batting streaks, has hit safely in his last 20 games. He had a 25-game skid during one period last year—the season major league high.

The Reds' record for consecutive game hitting streaks is 27 set by Edd Roush in 1920 and equalled by Roush in 1924 and Vada Pinson in 1965. The National League marks 37, established by Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves in 1945.

Rose collected 14 hits in 32 times at bat last week. He gained 17 points and moved from third place into the lead with a .404 mark.

Curt Flood of St. Louis held second place although he slipped 29 points to .362. He had only seven hits in 25 tries in last week's action. Tommie Aaron of Atlanta, eighth a week ago, zoomed into third place with a 13-point pickup to .359.

Don Kessinger of the Chicago Cubs, the leader last week, dropped to fourth place at .353. Matty Alou of Pittsburgh is fifth at .341.

In the American League, Ken Harrelson of Boston took over the No. 1 spot by garnering 13 hits in 25 attempts—a .520 pace—and lifting his average to .400.

Minnesota's Rod Carew gained 20 points to .359 and advanced to second place. He had nine safeties in 22 trips last week. Andy Etchebarren of Baltimore climbed from seventh to third on a 32-point gain to .353. Max Alvis of Cleveland and Frank Howard of Washington are deadlocked for fourth at .333. The figures include Sunday's games.

Roger Repoz of California took over the AL's home run and runs batted in leads. He slammed two homers and drove in nine runs last week, boosting his totals to eight home runs and 19 rbi.

Frank Howard Speaks Softly But Carries a Big Stick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Howard still speaks softly, but the big stick he swings is making more noise than ever.

The gentlemanly giant of the Washington Senators who concedes, "I'm usually a notoriously slow starter," is off to what may well be his hottest beginning bing in nine seasons in the majors.

Howard is hitting .333 for the first month with six homers and 16 runs batted in—all totals that rank among the American League leaders.

His surge, combined with stingy Senator pitching, is largely responsible for Washington's invasion of the first division. The Senators haven't finished that high in 22 years. Without Howard, the team has an anemic batting average of .190. Rookie Manager Jim Lemon moved the 6-foot-7 slugger closer to the plate this year so Howard could hit those slanting pitches, breaking low and outside, that have been eluding even his awesome reach.

Lemon said Howard is so

Phoenix and Milwaukee New in NBA, Hold Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Van Arsdale, Gail Goodrich, Fred Hetzel, Wayne Embry, Gay Rodgers and Len Chappell were among the players drafted Monday when Phoenix and Milwaukee shocked their new National Basketball Association clubs by acquiring 18 players each from the 12 established teams.

Phoenix obtained Van Arsdale and Emmette Bryant from New York, Goodrich from Los Angeles, McCoy McLemore from Chicago, Dick Snyder and Gene Tormohlen from St. Louis and George Wilson from Seattle.

Milwaukee's choices included Hetzel from San Francisco, Embry from Boston, Chappell from Detroit, Rodgers from Cincinnati and Jon McGlocklin from San Diego.

"I'm very happy with our selections," said John "Red" Kerr, the Phoenix coach. "We'll have a young, aggressive club, and we'll be very quick. I'm very pleased to have Van Arsdale, who will be used mostly at forward but can go both ways."

"Goodrich is a good leader at guard while Snyder is a big, strong guard. Right now, the center position is between Wilson and Tormohlen," Wilson is 6-foot-8 and Tormohlen 6-9.

"I'm all excited," said Larry Costello, Milwaukee's coach. "I was surprised that Hetzel was available. He's 6-8 and averaged 19 points last season. He can really put the ball in the basket."

"Rodgers will also be a key man for us. He has to handle the ball and didn't get much chance to do it with Oscar Robertson over there at Cincinnati. I'm also sure that Embry will play for us."

Costello, 36, also was among the players drafted by his club. He still was on the player roster of the Philadelphia 76ers although he had been signed to coach the new club last month.

Each of the 12 established teams was permitted to place seven of its players on a protected list before a choice was made by either of the new clubs. Then, after the first selection was made, each team put one previously exposed player on its protected list.

Dragons Win Triangular Golf

Warren Dragon golfers won a triangular match at Cone-wango Valley Country Club Monday afternoon, defeating Franklin and Rocky Grove. Matt Voight was medalist with a score of 79.

Teams scores were Warren 8½, Franklin 7½; Warren 9, Franklin 7; Franklin 9, Rocky Grove 6.

Warren now points for the Section II title at Cambridge Springs Thursday. The team is given a good chance to win if Freshman Larry Roth rejoins the club. Warren goes to Bemus Point Wednesday to play Maple Grove High School.

Warren now boasts of seven wins, five losses and two ties. Also expected to make the Cambridge Springs trip are Matt Voight, Doug Swanson, Pat Murphy and Jon Scalise.

Warren scores for the triangular match were: Voight, 39-40-79; Swanson, 40-43-83; Randy Buerkle, 50-53-103; Sc-alise, 52-47-99; Murphy, 48-50-98.

Frank Ellis was low man for Franklin with 91. John Boughner shot 89 for Rocky Grove.

Trout Stocking

Trout will be stocked in several locations during the next two weeks.

Rainbows will be stocked in Tidioute Creek this morning. The truck will be at Tidioute Post Office at 9:30 a.m.

Friday, rainbows will be stocked in Big Brokenstraw, while rainbows and brook trout will be stocked in Little Brokenstraw. The truck will be at Three Point Inn at 8:30 p.m.

Monday, May 13, brooks and browns will be stocked on Caldwell Creek and rainbows will be put into Pine Creek. The truck will be at Grand Valley at 9 a.m.

Trout will also be stocked at Chapman Dam and Farnsworth Run today.

This year's All-American Soap Box Derby Champion will learn how to build his racer at the local Derby Clinics.

1967 Champion Ken Cline did last year. David Krussow did the year before. And Robert Logan the year before that. In fact, ever since we've been having them, just about every All-American champion has picked up some winning tips at the clinics.

It's no wonder. At the clinics, you'll learn every step in building a racer. Trained experts will tell you some clever ways to make it really go. There'll be movies for you to watch and real Derby racers to examine. So don't miss out! A trip to Akron, $500 bond, and a share in $30,000 of college scholarships are at stake. Your best chance to win starts at the local Derby clinics.

Cables Said Competitive With Satellites

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A communications executive said Monday that placing too much reliance on satellites could impede, rather than speed, the growth of international communications in the next decade.

Ted B. Westfall, executive president of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., told a meeting of the International Communications Association Monday that some had forecast the demise of cables as far back as 1912, with the inauguration of ITT's Poulson radio system across the Pacific Ocean.

"You will find that everything the radio enthusiasts predicted then have since come true—with one exception—the cables have not died," he said.

Westfall said cables still had certain unique advantages that radio could not match and that cables had shared in using much of the engineering advances of radio, such as solid-state technology.

He said communications satellites' limited frequency spectrum and parking space and delay in transmission were its major weaknesses.

There is also a time lag in an electronic signal beamed up to a satellite and down to a receiving station, he said, that hampers data communications processing.

Westfall said that because of its increasing capacity and a 20-year life in which to write off costs, submarine coaxial cables "will remain fully competitive to anything that satellite communication can offer."

Presiding Bishop Attends Episcopal Convention in Erie

PRESIDING BISHOP IS GUEST

The Episcopal Diocese of Erie was honored Friday to have as its principal speaker, the Most Reverend John Elbridge Hines, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. Bishop Hines addressed those attending the 58th annual Diocesan convention held in Erie.

Warren and Youngsville were well represented at the 58th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie, held in Erie Friday and Saturday.

Attending from Trinity Memorial Church were the Rev. Richard R. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Conaway, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Max Saunders, Mrs. Robert Glarner, Dr. George Riley, John Biekarck, and Perry Sweet with Mrs. William Muir and Mrs. Bruce Wood representing Trinity Churchwomen at the Episcopal Churchwomen's convention which coincided with the Diocesan affair.

The Rev. and Mrs. William C. Wilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer were delegates from St. Francis of Assisi

Church, Youngsville.

W. E. Rice was reelected vice chairman of the board of trustees; Robert Dunham was again named to the standing committee with Mrs. Muir elected a delegate to the provincial synod and Dr. Riley an alternate synod delegate. Mrs. Muir is first vice president of the Diocesan Women's Council.

The principal speaker at the banquet was the Most Rev. John E. Hines, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, who was introduced by the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie.

Bishop Hines charged the church's failure in grappling with the problems being faced in a social disorder and advised to "engage or perish—get with it or die."

Noting a new epic in the history of the world, the presiding bishop stated that obsolescence was the nightmare of the church and that a vital church must cultivate a keen sense of self analysis.

"The church," Bishop Hines reminded, "has too long been ignored by people to whom it should have a moving and transforming power."

The bishop stated that the greatest asset of the church is its lay people. "When your ministry is real," he said, "it can be detected by others and thus you then fulfill the ministry of the church."

The bishop urged those in the church to stand up and be counted against the injustices in the world today—"to see in our city streets today the results of the cowardly people in the church who simply won't speak for their God. There will be a better world only through courageous, outgoing, compassionate men and women acting in 'His Name'."

Bishop Hines, referred to Bishop Crittenden as "Mr. Ecumenical of the Episcopal Church" and said the latter, as a member of the National Council of Churches, had taken a lot of punches because he is courageous, candid and speaks his mind. Bishop Crittenden, the presiding bishop, stated is "one of the greatest bishops of this church and I am glad to say so."

A first at diocesan convention was the admission of the board of directors of the Diocesan Youth Council to the convention hall. The young people were accorded seats and a voice but not a vote at the session.

The convention banquet was addressed by Peter Baker, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard H. Baker, youth council president. In an excellent talk, Baker urged greater participation by the young people in the church.

Presented to Bishop Hines was a pin with the words "Be Kind to Big Daddy," inscribed. The presiding bishop found the memento appropriate since, as he put it as Chief Pastor of the Episcopal Church he certainly could well be "Big Daddy."

During the convention Bishop Hines conducted a dedication service for the new Diocesan House. Bishop Crittenden announced that a bronze statue of St. Martin had been presented the diocesan house by Harrison Stackpole and Lyle G. Hall Jr. The statue was given in memory of the late Lyle G. Hall Sr. of Ridgway, who Bishop Crittenden referred the Mr. Hall Sr. as a "great churchman."

SOME DAY SOMEONE MAY INVENT
SOMETHING
BETTER THAN
GAS

...BUT DON'T BET ON IT.

The guy who tries to come up with something faster, more flexible, or with greater cooking control than today's clean, precise Gas flame will have quite a job. He'll have to top such cooking conveniences as the burner-with-a-brain, oven-with-a-mind, automatic cook and hold, automatic meat programming, smokeless broiling. (All are Gas range exclusives). And his Whatsis will at least have to match Gas for cleanliness... and for economy of operation. (That's almost too much to ask).

Sure, some day someone may invent something that cooks better than a Gas flame. But it's not likely. So go with the best cooking device yet invented—a modern, dependable Gas range.

ANNUAL ROTARY RADIO DAY

Monday was annual Rotary Radio Day in Warren as members of the local service club took over some of the operations of Station WNAE. Proceeds go to Rotary charitable funds. A temporary "studio" was set up in G.C. Murphy Co's Second ave. window for the Rotary teams who read spot announcements from 7 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Pictured, left, are Jack Hartley and William E. Yeager Jr., Right are John Kotod and Dick Munch.

Filming of 'Molly Maguires' Begins

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — In a coal mine setting rebuilt to 1876 specifications, camera work started Monday for the historical motion picture, "The Molly Maguires."

It will be the story of a secret society of Irish immigrants which flourished in the hard coal country of Luzerne and adjoining counties of Northeastern Pennsylvania during the late 1870s.

Crews of carpenters and craftsmen first made their appearance in the area in early February, laying the ground-work for Monday's start of actual filming.

The preliminaries consisted of reconstruction work in the small (pop. 86) mining community of Eckley, about 10 miles from Hazleton. The modern, automated coal breaker at Eckley was unrealistic for 1876 scenes, so the film company built one to conform to a cost of $300,000. The breaker is used to size coal into uniform lumps for the market.

Among other preparations, all utility wires were strung underground. Householders were asked to give up, at a price, their television aerials.

The Mollires is a project of Paramount Studios, with Sean Connery, Richard Harris and Samantha Eggar in the feature roles. Martin Ritt is the director-producer, with Walter Bernstein as co-producer. Bernstein wrote the original script.

A spokesman said the company of 181 persons would be in the area for about 10 weeks, shooting about 70 per cent of the picture. The remaining 30 per cent will be filmed in Hollywood. Officials said $8 million had been budgeted for the picture. Hazleton serves as headquarters for the operation.

Russell VFD Orders New Tank Truck

Twenty six members were present for the April meeting of the Russell VFD meeting. Merle Sterling presided and Chief Howard Jones reported 10 calls for the month; eight grass fires and two mutual aid.

A new 1000 gallon tank truck has been ordered. Claude Perrigo gave a talk on traffic problems. It was reported work has been done in the park, getting ready for picnic season. Andy Martink of the Forest and Waters Dept. showed slides on fighting forest fires.

The violent period of the Molly Maguires lasted for several years.

Most of the action will be at the community of Eckley, although some of it will be filmed at Jim Thorpe, Bloomsburg and other locations.

Committees appointed for May were:

Refreshment committee — Robert Swanson, Jeffrey Barrett and Claude Perrigo; cleaning hall—Jeffrey Barrett, Marty Peterson, Pete Swanson and Claude Perrigo.

To conclude, refreshments were served by John English, Donald Andersen and Kenneth Higgins.

Sen. Hayden, 90, Retiring After Record 57 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ninety-year-old Sen. Carl Hayden, speaking of "a time to step aside," said Monday he will retire early next year after nearly 57 years in Congress, longer than any other man.

The Arizona Democrat told newsmen and friends he endorses his successor his administrative aide, Roy Elson, so that "the work will go on."

Barry Goldwater, former senator and Republican presidential nominee, is the only announced candidate for Hayden's seat but Elson has said he would run if Hayden did not.

Hayden made his announcement at a news conference and reception in the Senate office building room where he presides over daily Appropriations Committee hearings.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., next in line to take over the important Appropriations Committee chairmanship, described Hayden as an exception to the rule that any veteran senator makes some enemies. He said Hayden has none.

Russell cited Hayden's contribution to the development of Arizona which has grown sevenfold since Hayden came to Congress as its first representative in 1912.

Russell currently is chairman of the Armed Services Committee but cannot hold both chairmanships. If he takes Appropriations, Sen. John Stennis, D. Miss., would become Armed Services chairman. If Russell yields the Appropriations post it probably would go to Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D. La. Russell has given no public hint on his plans.

Hayden thanked the people of Arizona for electing him to 15 years in the House and 42 years in the Senate, where he served under 10 presidents.

He said his experience taught him "that contemporary events need contemporary men. Time actually makes specialists of us all. When a house is built, there is a moment for the foundation another for the walls, the roof and so on."

Visitors from England Guests of Warren Rotary Club

ROTARY GUESTS FROM ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Veerman, of St. Austeel, Cornwall, England, are visiting Warren to meet Rachel Check, Warren Area High School senior who will live with them this summer in England under a Rotary International exchange program. The Veermans are proprietors of a nursery and florist business. From left: Seated: Rachel Check and Mrs. Veerman. Standing: William Honor guests at Warren Rotary Club at their Monday meeting at the Blue Manor were Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Veerman of St. Austeel, Cornwall, England and Warren Area High School senior Rachel Check, who will go to England in June to be with the Veerman family under the Rotary International exchange program. Rachel is the daughter of Mrs. Louise Check.

The Veermans are visiting relatives in Canada, and came to Warren to visit the Warren Rotary Club as well as Rachel Check and her family. Rotary international chairman William W. Wolfersberger recalled that Rachel Check, who will graduate from Warren Area High School with the Class of 1968, took the initiative in seeking employment overseas by writing to florist members of Floral Telegraph Delivery. Hugo Veerman, a past president of St. Austeel Rotary Club in England, a florist and nurseryman, replied and also, aware of the Rotary International exchange program, addressed the secretary of the Warren Rotary Club suggesting collaboration in making Rachel Check a joint Rotary international project between the two clubs. The secretary of the Warren Rotary Club is Lawrence Ekey, Warren florist, who has employed Rachel Check after school and Saturdays, for the past two years. The Warren Rotary Club acted immediately to implement the project.

At Monday's meeting Veerman exchanged a Rotary Club banner, in the form of an antique scroll from the St. Austeel Rotary Club for a banner from Warren Rotary Club — which sends the news of the Kinzua Dam area everywhere.

Warren Area High School students who were guests of Warren Rotary Monday were Nancy Morse, Sally Dates, James Mead, and James Cruickshank. Other guests were Senior Active Rotarian J. E. Whitaker of Williamsport, and Senior Active Rotarian Fay Dailey, former member Warren Rotary Club, now of Westerville. Also the Rev. Frank Churchill, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church; Mike Cashman, just returned from Vietnam and Ken Dean.

Ken Brown was welcomed as a new member of Warren Rotary Club.

Ed Johnson, chairman, annual Rotary Radio Day, reported results were way ahead of last year.

President Henry Powell expressed the club's appreciation for the splendid work of Henry Wuesthoff and Dr. John Jacka in managing the arrangements for the successful visit of the seven men from Australia last week on a Rotary International Group Study exchange program.

Reuther's Leadership Challenged

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Laying his leadership on the line and moving boldly to the attack on rebels challenging his administration, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, routed the opposition Monday.

A convention of 3,000 delegates representing 1.4 million UAW members overwhelmingly adopted an administration-supported proposal to continue the election of international officers by convention vote.

Rebels proposed election of officers through a unionwide referendum, which they contended would carry out the union's insistence upon a "one-man, one-vote" theory in election of public officials.

But the opposition could produce only 293 of a required 825 delegates necessary in an attempt to force a convention roll call on the question.

Reuther interrupted consideration of a lengthy resolutions committee report to take up the rebels' challenge.

He promptly called up a recommendation from the constitution committee that the union continue its "historic convention system for making decisions and the election of officers."

The defeat had what appeared to be the affect of killing off any hopes rebels might have of later bringing to the floor a committee-bottled resolution that would force a switch to unionwide referendum in election of officers.

That would take a minimum of 425 delegates.

Jack Wagner, president of a giant Buick local in Flint, Mich., and Christopher Manning, president of the local representing workers at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, Mich., are coleaders of the rebels.

Both have lost in past tangles with Reuther, but their strength appeared greater this time, until tested, because 39 different local unions had proposed varying systems to require unionwide referendum in election.
